5. Admissions

5.1 General Admission Requirements

NewBridge Graduate Institute subscribes to the national rules associated with access to Higher Education Programmes and generally sets its admission requirements in line with the minimum admission requirements. Subject-specific requirements are only used when critical for student success. This is made possible because of our small classes and ability to focus on individual student needs.

5.2 Admission to Higher Certificate - NQF Exit Level 5 with a minimum total of 120 credits

- To qualify for admission to the Higher Certificate, the applicant must have a Senior Certificate (SC) OR National Senior Certificate (NSC) endorsed with confirmation that they qualify for admission to Higher Certificate studies.
- In the case of NewBridge Graduate Institute this would normally be a minimum of 30% in English as a Home Language or First Additional Language and a minimum of 30% in ANY FOUR subjects OR a National Certificate (Vocational) with the minimum requirements for entrance to Higher Certificate studies, as specified by Umalusi; or any other related NQF level 4 SAQA approved qualification.

5.3 Admission to Diploma – NQF Exit Level 6 with a minimum total of 360 credits

To qualify for admission to Diploma studies, the applicant must have a Senior Certificate (SC) OR National Senior Certificate (NSC) endorsed to confirm admission to Diploma studies with a minimum achievement of 3 (40-49%) in any FOUR 20 credit subjects AS WELL AS a minimum of 30% in the language of the institution of higher education OR a National Certificate (Vocational) with the minimum requirements for entrance to Diploma studies, as specified by Umalusi; or any other related NQF level 4 SAQA accredited qualification.

The candidate must meet any qualification-specific additional requirements. In turn, a Higher Certificate in a cognate field or containing appropriate cognate content will also be considered for admission.

5.4 Admission to Degree – NQF Exit Level 7/8 with a minimum total of 360 credits

- i. The minimum entry requirement is a National Senior Certificate endorsed as meeting the requirements for admission to Degree study. In addition, candidates must meet specific qualification requirements.
- ii. Admission will also be given to candidates with a National Certificate (Vocational) Level 4 issued by the Council for General and Further Education and Training if achieved at the appropriate level; a Senior Certificate (SC) with matriculation exemption or qualifying for exemption from the Matriculation Board.
- iii. Admission can also be achieved through a Higher Certificate or Advanced Certificate in a cognate field, a Diploma, or formal Recognition of Prior Learning.

5.5 International Students

It is the responsibility of all students to provide proof of the equivalence of their foreign qualification to the SA qualifications to gain admission to the qualifications offered at NGI. For degree studies, an international student requires a certificate of exemption from the Matriculation Board.

For admission to other qualifications, the student requires a certificate of equivalence from SAQA.

International student must obtain and maintain a valid study visa or permit in the name of the institution which is valid for the duration of the study period.

5.6 Mature Age Alternate Admission

- i. Mature age:
 - A candidate who is 23 years or older may be admitted to Degree studies if the candidate has 40% for four or more subjects in the NSC examination or equivalent school leaving qualification.
 - A candidate who is 23 years or older may be admitted to a Higher Certificate or Diploma studies if the candidate has an NSC.
 - A candidate who will be 45 years or older in their first year of study may be admitted to any relevant undergraduate course of study if the Academic Board believes that they have a reasonable chance of completing their studies. For degree studies, an application for a certificate of exemption must be made to USAf supported by a letter of support from the Academic Board.

5.7 Recognition of Prior Learning

NewBridge Graduate Institute will admit students who can demonstrate that they have achieved the required prior knowledge and skills for admission through non-formal learning. RPL provides an alternative access route into a programme of learning for those who do not meet the formal entry requirements for admission. It also provides for the assessment of non-formal and informal learning activities. RPL will not normally be used to grant credit for formal modules but may be used to award exemption from formal modules presented in a qualification.

5.8 Credit accumulation and transfer

Credit Accumulation and Transfer refer to the recognition, for credit, of formal learning achieved by a student in an institution or on a qualification other than the one on which they wish to receive credit. It enables formal recognition and certification of learning achievement. It allows for articulation across the sub-frameworks of the NQF to facilitate lifelong learning, provide for the mobility of students, and enhance their chances of completing their qualifications. associated with the specific subjects to be recognised for exemption and/or inclusion, and the nature of the assessment used.

5.9 Disability

7. A profile of NewBridge Graduate Institute

NewBridge Graduate Institute organizes its academic programmes into schools, each with a Head of School who is responsible for the programmes within that school.

Each programme has a programme manager who is responsible for the programme management for all the sites of delivery.

On each campus, each programme has a programme coordinator who is responsible for ensuring that the programme is delivered according to the standards and requirements of the programme and to ensure equity and parity between the sites. The module leaders, programme managers and programme coordinators work as a committee to ensure that the programme remains at the level required.

Each module in the programme has a module lead/ examiner who is supported by an internal moderator; the two are responsible for the module and for supporting lecturers on that module - they work with the programme manager to ensure the integrity of the programme.

8. Assessment, Credits and Qualification

Assessment has two purposes in a learning journey. It is a structured process in which evidence of learning is gathered and evaluated against the outcomes, criteria, and standards in learning programmes. It is also the process in which information is gathered along the path to the outcomes so that gaps in learning and understanding can be addressed and progress can be measured. The former purpose is summative whereas the latter is formative.

At NewBridge Graduate Institute assessment meets both purposes generally and the strategy adopted in each qualification is aligned to the purpose of the qualification specifically within this overall set of principles.

To achieve both purposes, assessment is formative and summative. Students are given multiple opportunities to improve their mastery and succeed using a range of different strategies.

As the qualifications are career-focused, assessments are theoretical and practical and the application of knowledge to appropriate levels of real-world contexts is integrated into each programme strategy.

To pass a module a student must achieve 50% for the module. For each module passed the student obtains the allocated credits.

FET and Occupational Programmes will conduct formative and summative assessments as set out in accordance with the guidelines prescribed by the appropriate SETA and the QCTO.

A qualification is issued to a student who has met all the requirements towards the fulfilment of the requirements of such a qualification. All qualifications are issued only at official ceremonies.

9. Language Policy

In adherence to the South African Constitution, which recognises and protects the 11 official languages, including the recently added sign language, NewBridge Graduate Institute acknowledges the significance of language in fostering inclusivity and accessibility.

We acknowledge the inherent privilege in selecting English as the language of learning, teaching, and communication within our institution, recognising its status as a dominant language in the country. However, we are fully cognisant of the potential risks associated with this decision and are committed to ensuring that our use of English is inclusive, appropriate, and does not create unnecessary barriers to success for our students.

English has been chosen as the primary language of instruction due to its widespread use in commercial and official contexts within South Africa, as well as its international recognition. Proficiency in English offers direct economic and social advantages to our students thus, facilitating their participation in a globalised world.

At NewBridge Graduate Institute, all official communication, documentation, lectures, assessments, and interactions occur in English. However, we are dedicated to accommodating students and their families/sponsors who require services in other languages. Wherever feasible, and with the availability of staff proficient in these languages, we strive to help and support in languages beyond English to ensure equitable access to our educational services.

10. Mode of Instruction

NGI is primarily a contact institution, proud of its campus-based delivery. Recognising the opportunities provided by educational technology NGI also has robust hybrid offerings.

11. Programme Fees

Students should contact campuses for their specific schedule as there are variations from this one dependent on the region of the campus and the bursary programmes. These are the base fees. Additional costs and requirements are communicated individually to students well in advance.
